Visual-Spatial and Auditory-Sequential Learners observers, learn holistically, need more time to process information, and think in pictures. These are the essential distinctions between the two learning styles.

Identifying Visual-Spatial and Auditory-Sequential Learners

Learning disability or a learning disorder is a condition in the brain that causes difficulty and struggle to comprehend or process information and can be caused by several different factors. Given the "difficulty learning in a typical manner", this does not exclude the ability to learn in a different manner. Therefore, some people can be more accurately described as having a "learning ...
