Liquid crystals (LCs) are a state of matter which has properties between those of conventional liquids and those of solid crystals. For instance, a liquid crystal may flow like a liquid, but its molecules may be oriented in a crystal-like way. There are many different types of liquid-crystal phases, which can be distinguished by their different optical properties (such as textures).

A liquid crystal thermometer, temperature strip or plastic strip thermometer is a type of thermometer that contains heat-sensitive (thermochromic) liquid crystals in a plastic strip that change colour to indicate different temperatures. Liquid crystals possess the mechanical properties of a liquid, but have the optical properties of a single crystal. Temperature changes can affect the colour ...

INTRODUCTION. The ability to macroscopically align liquid crystal (LC) films to controlled hierarchical alignment is key for the development of next-generation high-performance electronic, photonic, mechanical, and biomedical organic devices (1"5). Current methods achieve this control of large-area alignment of LCs, having intrinsic structural ordering over various length scales from ...
