Before the advent of perspective, it was generally accepted that the function of art was not naturalistic representation, but rather the expression of spiritual power. Artists tended to portray importance through size. An example is the mosaic shown in Fig. 2. Fig. 2 â€” A mosaic with Christ made very large, taken from scenes of the Last Judgement.

Chapter 7: Map projections 79 An ideal map projection retains all these graticule characteristics through the translation to the map. But the ideal map projection can never be achieved and if a projection is designed to guarantee a particular characteristic as true, others on it necessarily will be distorted. As a result map projections will
